

Discover our extensive training opportunities!

Hitachi Astemo Aftermarket Germany GmbH is one of the leading partners of high quality automotive aftermarket parts. The steadily growing portfolio includes products from the fields of electronics, sensors, steering, fuel supply, engine management and suspension. At Hitachi Astemo, we regularly train new customers worldwide about our products so that they can share their knowledge with interested parties. Our know-how supports our customers in solving challenges and is available to them with the help of our Technical Support. The increasing complexity of electronics in vehicles requires specific knowledge. With our in-house development, we offer training in various categories and specifically address the essential functions and characteristics.

We are also available for you online! Our webinars allow you to participate in training courses from any location.

In addition, on our YouTube channel we present practical examples of how you can easily and efficiently install, diagnose and use our products. With over 5000 subscribers and more than 150 videos in different languages, we offer you an accurate insight into our portfolio globally.

Discover our training offers and become an expert in your industry. Contact us today!

YouTube

Our support for you:

- Regular customer visits from Sales and Product Managers to ensure that local market necessities and trends are taken into consideration.
- We incorporate customers into market research for new products
- Support with promotional activities
- Participation at In-House Trade Shows
- Technical trainings free of charge
- Our R&D department can clarify complicated technical challenges

Hitachi Astemo Aftermarket Germany GmbH

Contact our Technical Support Team

Mail: emea.af.techsupport@hitachiastemo.com

Phone: +49 5772 567-950

WhatsApp: <https://wa.me/495772567950>

Visit us on YouTube

Astemo